

Winter Gnome Homes

In the long cold dark of winter, cheer can be found by the glow of a lantern or the twinkling of a friend's smile. It is often in these small points of light that the greatest warmth can prevail. Make a home for a gnome, and take a moment to appreciate the little things in life.

